

I am commenting on the no-call list. Please, please don't let the law get watered down. It has been great not getting called and I would hate for that to start up again.